Research Funding

I have obtained the following external funding for research projects, either individually or working with colleagues:

- £18,960 from the Cyrenians for research to examine the origins of poverty among homelessness people in the North East of England
- 13,433 Euros from the Johann Daniel Lawaetz Foundation for my participation in a European project to examine transitions of marginalised young people
- £11,000 from the homeless charity Crisis for research into youth homelessness in areas of industrial decline
- £10,000 from Newcastle City Council and Your Homes Newcastle to examine the effectiveness of their 'whole market' approach to preventing homelessness
- £8,976.00 from Home Housing to evaluate the provision of intensive support for care leavers
- £9,868.00 from Durham County Council to evaluate the provision of housing related support to released prisoners
